

J. ROBERTO MORAN, M.D.
Director of Worldwide Medical and Nutritional Affairs
McNeil Nutritionals, a Johnson & Johnson Company

Medical Affairs Executive with expertise in leading and implementing global initiatives in Clinical Research, Medical Communications and Post-Marketing Surveillance of products

Medical education with specialty training in Gastroenterology and Nutrition at Louisiana State University and Vanderbilt University Medical Centers. Professional experience in corporate (Mead Johnson Nutritionals) and university/hospital medicine (Vanderbilt University and Wake Forest University Medical Centers) with in-depth capabilities in design, execution and assessment of medical research worldwide. Communications expertise addressing industry, academia, government, and professional organizations. Global network in the health care field with knowledge of US and international regulatory policies. Wide-ranging experience in strategic planning, innovation in work processes, budget development and management.

Author/co-author of chapters in eight Nutrition and Pediatric textbooks and of over thirty publications in refereed medical journals. Bilingual Spanish and English, basic French and Italian.

601 Office Center Drive
Fort Washington, PA 19034, USA
RMORAN4@mcnus.jnj.com

Office: +1.215.273.4980
Mobile: +1.732.539.9983