

Workshop "How to write a successful research proposal"

Friday, May 7th 2010, 8.20- 9.25am

Venue: Campus of the University Hospital, Munich-Großhadern

Chair: Dr. Margaret Ashwell (Ashwell - UK)
Co-Chair: Dr. Elena Martin-Bautista (ESF-France)

This interactive session will outline, and then allow participants to discuss, the 'ten golden rules' for writing research proposals. These have been prepared from experience in writing and evaluating proposals for EC and national calls:

An example research call for EC FP7 will be presented so that participants can discuss in groups, or in plenary, as numbers allow, how they would prepare a proposal for this call.

We need your help to make this session fully interactive!

1. Please send us all your questions about writing research proposals per email to programming@med.uni-muenchen.de. Where have you failed in the past?
2. Please alert us ahead of time if you have specific proposals to prepare which the group can use for illustrative purposes.

If we get a good response from you , we can plan ahead to address common problems and to give advice which will help all participants.

...more details to come soon on www.metabolic-programming.org/munich2010/!

We are looking forward to welcoming you to this Workshop!
